When was the last time you checked our web site

June 2007

It's spring time. That time of the year when we say goodbye to our snowbird members and friends. All winter long we wish the snowbirds would go home and clear our roads, but our members we will miss. Many of them always help out during a chapter 66 function or event. I want to give them a big THANK YOU from myself and EAA 66. We'll see you in the fall at our 40th anniversary celebration October 27.

You might think the planets must have finally lined up just right. We finally got new tables. Anyone who would like one of the old 12 ft. long tables can have one for a $10.00 donation to the chapter. The warped one you can have for free.

As far as what's going on with the hangar. We are in negotiations to get all or most of our money back. This is going to take a while to do. Let's hope we don't have to get an attorney involved. If so, does anyone know of one, and who might give us a break on fees?

OK, we've revisited the shed replacement issue again and considered all of our options and what is permissible by the airport to come up with a final recommendation. A 10ft X 12ft. shed Including permit, setup, and shelving we will install, will run a little over $3000.00. I will be asking for your approval of this expenditure at the meeting. We need to resolve this now.

One reason we need to resolve this is because our new neighbor, DEAN STEEL, has begun construction of their hangar and the airport has told us to get rid of our old shed. Yup, that big open area to our South East is gone.

When the shed is set up we need to get a work party together to move our stuff in and tear down the old one. Also I would like to finish painting the inside of the building. So be alert for the call.

If you weren't at our last breakfast, then you might have caught the action on TV. Jim McClain put out a press release about the Young Eagles fly, and WINK TV showed up. We got some good coverage that day. With live shots and reports during every news broadcast. Good work Jim.

That is all,
Paul Yocum

Touch and Go

We have a movie screen in our closet. If anyone who might still be into film or slides wants it, please take it in the next few weeks or it going to the trash.

There also is some stuff in the shed that does not belong to EAA. If you have anything in there, get it out. Or it will be trashed when we get the new shed.

Flight Plan

Jim McClain is going to surprise us with a program this month.

Our new neighbors DEAN STEEL starts construction

Chapter 66 makes it on TV.

This report from Don Black

Rik Bottegal has started building his Jr Ace C and is the classic EAA builder, having started with paper drawings, and buying materials as needed. No kit!
No ready made parts here either, none available. This is his first aircraft project and is moving along quickly. Rik is usually working on the Ace till 2AM, and flying his Swift when time is available from his fulltime job.

Also, Jim and Nancy Givens recently have had their weight & balance done on their RANS CYOTE by Don, and got their certification. I'm sure they've gotten their first flight in by now.
